The Tent of Meeting

How beautiful are your tents, Jacob, your dwelling places, Israel!

4 M 24,5

This year, we are putting up our tent in the land of Kazimierz. It will be our common, Festival Tent of Meeting – the centre of events, lectures, workshops, concerts and meetings.

Why a tent? We were inspired by the history of “biblical” tents, starting from the one that Moses put up in the desert to talk to God face to face.

The tent, from the beginning of human history, has been inextricably connected with man’s existence. When the Jews, led by Moses, forming the future nation of Israel, set out across the desert to their Promised Land, they lived in tents for forty years. To this day, not to forget it, when they celebrate one of the three pilgrim holidays, the Sukkot Festival, the Jews pray and eat in the so-called Sukkahs which are nothing more than a representation of these tents.

Every day of the seven-day Sukkot Festival, the tent is visited by special guests, the Ushpizin. They are biblical characters, Tzadikim, the righteous, the Seven Faithful Shepherds: Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Joseph, Moses, Aaron and David. They will sit down at the table if you also invite the poor, the excluded, exiles and refugees with them. Especially refugees today. We are all refugees because no one can guarantee that tomorrow we won’t leave our native land and go into the desert of exile. This has happened so many times before.

We put up our Tent of Meeting, aware of the unpredictability of history, the fact and warning that nothing is given to man forever. That hard-won freedom may be lost overnight when election results are announced in the morning, or when barbarians stand at the gates of the city.

We put up our Tent of Meeting because we want to welcome all of you inside regardless of where you come from, what faith you profess, what your family language is.

We put up our Tent of Meeting in Kazimierz, saddened by the fact that it has become a tourist playground. It’s not a bad thing, but we don’t consent that it be treated like a zoo, a place of beer fun and electric cart safari.

Kazimierz stands for nearly eight hundred years of Ashkenazi civilization. This is a living place for those who value gradual, unhurried discovering of the beauty of Jewish culture. So we put up our Tent of Meeting in this patch of land that has permanently produced the fruits of Jewish religion, culture and science.

The Tent of Meeting is both a symbol of life and its passing. We return to the sources, to the beginnings – Polish nomads on Jewish soil. We open our tent to all who being the fruit of the Earth, are also part of our common Polish-Jewish universe.

Bruchim Haba'im! – Blessed are those who come.
