43 writers and illustrators created 20 amazing pieces which, by referring to empathy, bring hope for a better world that is more open to diversity. “All the Colors of the World” is a collection of short stories for children and teenagers which were created by a pro bono initiative born out of a group of acknowledged writers and illustrators as a gesture of solidarity and support for children and teenagers who face discrimination based on dissimilarity. The meeting will have the following participants: Katarzyna Ryrych —writer, poet, and artist— and a representative of the Empowering Children Foundation.

The conversation will be moderated by Miriam (Maria) Synger – sociologist, a proud Jewish woman and Polish patriot, educator, a new instagrammer (@jestem_zydowka), a wife, a mother, lover of spiders, and all colors of the rainbow, who is open to conversation and eager for change.
